What is it with our weather?
I just don't understand
The weather man predicts it
But it's never what they planned

I took a simple day out
They said it would be hot
So I only wore a T-shirt
And hot? Well it was not!

It got colder by the minute
My shivering arms were bare
And then it started raining
And that just ruined my hair!

My feet go soaking wet
And I think I've caught a sniffle
I don't believe the weatherman
Now, I think that it's all piffle

(III)

The weather is a common talk for many people each day. The weather can change day-to-day or even hour-to-hour. On the other hand, the climate takes a long time, usually hundreds or thousands of years, to change.

The climate in one place is different from that in another place. For example, the climate in a desert may be hot and dry, but in a rainforest, it is usually warm, and in some mountain areas, it will be cold all year long. In the world today, the word climate change is often heard, and it usually refers to the process of the Earth heating up, also called global warming.

The Earth is about 4.5 billion years old, and during its life, the climate has changed quite often and has experienced an Ice Age, warming, and everything in between. All scientists agree that the climate changed often during the first 4.5 billion years. However, it is also a fact that the Earth's average temperature has increased about 1.33°F over the past 100 years between the 1900s and 2000s. Reviewing the past 200 years, it has increased about 1.8°F. It may not sound like a big change, but it will influence the Earth.

In summary, there has been climate change before humans began living on Earth, but the average temperature has increased over the past 200 years. Many scientists believe it is a result of human behavior, and changing some of those behaviors will be necessary on climate change and global warming.

Albert is reading some information on the Internet.

Walt Disney: As a writer, a voice actor and an animator in the film business, Walt Disney had come a long way. At first, he had his own office to draw cartoons. However, he wasn't very successful until he created the famous Mickey Mouse. The rule that Walt Disney followed was to "keep trying and believe in yourself." Later, he put this idea into his movies and told everyone to run after their dreams. In 1955, he opened Disneyland, where hundreds of thousands of people have a lot of fun and share love with their kids, family and friends. Walt Disney will always be remembered for the joy he brought to the world.

Malala: Malala, who grew up in a beautiful city in Pakistan, won Nobel Prize in 2014. At the age of seventeen, she was the youngest person ever to get this prize. Malala called for the rights to education for both boys and girls. In Pakistan, the leader Taliban didn't let girls go to school and they even sent people to kill Malala on the bus. Though Malala got hurt, she was taken to the UK right away and she stayed in a hospital there until she got better. Her terrible experience didn't stop her from fighting for girls' rights to go to school. Soon her story and hard work became known to the world and that pushed the Talibans to give girls rights to education. With her hard work, Malala finally carried out her dream and helped the girls in her country.

8. Was Jack late for school this morning?
9. How often do you play baseball?
10. How was the weather in Kaohsiung yesterday?

三、言談理解：根據聽到的內容，選出一個最適合的答案。

11. B: Mom, I'm home.

W: Look at you. Go take a shower.

B: But I'm hungry.

W: OK, you may have some cookies, but wash your hands first.

Question: Which is true about the boy?

12. W: Brian, can you go back to your room and do your homework now?

B: I can't. I am talking to David on the phone. He is my good friend at school.

W: Go back to your room now!

B: But David has some math problems. We are just discussing.

W: You always say that. Just put down the phone and do your homework.

Question: What do we know from the talk?

13. M: Susan, hurry up. It's 9:35. We are late!

W: Don't worry. Mr. Wang is always fifteen minutes late for meetings. We still have ten minutes.

M: But he is not late this time. See? He is waiting for everyone in the meeting room now.

W: Oops.

Question: What time does the meeting start?

14. W: Where is Jessie?

M: Isn't she in the kitchen? She was there ten minutes ago.

W: No, she isn't in the kitchen now.

M: Then is she in her room?

W: Oh, look, she is in the garden. She's watering the flowers.

Question: Was Jessie in the garden ten minutes ago?

15. G: Good morning, students. Today is our school's fifty-year-old birthday. It's great to see old photos of this lovely place. In this photo, there were only five classrooms, but now there are five tall buildings with many classrooms in them. There wasn't a library, and there wasn't a sports field, either. Now you have them all. Our school is a great place for you.

Question: What can we know about the school?
