Poem A

First I saw the white.
And then I saw the black.
White horses, birds, and rabbits.
Black bears, monkeys, and yaks.
A yellow dromedary with a hump upon the back.
An orange kangaroo with a baby in its bag.
A brown elephant was drinking water in the sun.
Just like you were in the zoo.
Just like they were right in front of our eyes.

Poem B

Be thankful that your nose is on your face,
not on some other place,
For if it were where it is not,
you might dislike your nose a lot.
Guess what will happen if your nose
were sandwiched in between your toes.
That clearly would not be a treat,
for you'd be going to smell your feet.
Your nose, though ugly as it is,
sits between your eyes on your face,
not somewhere else.

Poem C

I shut my door
To keep you out
It won't do any good
To stand shout
I won't listen to
A thing you say
Just time you took Yourself away
I lock my door
To keep me here
Until I'm sure
You disappear.

Poem D

"I cannot go to school today,"
Said little Peggy Ann McKay.
"I am weak.
My mouth is dry.
My nose is cold.
I have sixteen chickenpox.
And there is one more—that's seventeen.
And don't you think my face looks green?"

I am sure that my left leg broke.
I think my hair is falling out.
I cannot hear.
There is a hole inside my ear.
And my heart is—what?
What is that? What did you say?
You say today is..... Saturday?
Goodbye, I'm going out to play!"

Dear Charlie,

I miss you so much. I hope you can 35. You asked me about my summer days here on your last call. Mom, Dad, and I went to Scotland, the United Kingdom, and took a trip around in the car. We stayed in Edinburgh for three days. There was so much rain those days. One afternoon, we visited the 3000-year-old Edinburgh Castle on Castle Rock. Now it is a world-famous museum. Next, we went north to Perth. We stayed there for four days. Dad loved this part because we visited a wine factory and saw how to make wine. Luckily, it finally stopped raining, and one morning we went walking in the hills around Ben Nevis, Scotland's high mountain. It was my favorite part of our trip. We also went to Loch Ness, a famous lake. We hoped to see the terrible long-necked monster in it! We 36, of course, but we had fun trying! Well, they were the places we visited these days. 37. I wish you were here! Next, we are planning to visit the London Eye and the Tower Bridge in England. I promise to send you another postcard when we are there! Remember to have a lot of warm water and get more rest. Take care.

38,

Ruth
