C. 言談理解：請聽對話或短文，選出最適當的答案

11. 女: Why do you look so sad, Brian?

男: Last night, I heard my parents talking about my future job.

女: Did you tell them that you want to be a lawyer in the future?

男: No. I had no chance to speak. They were fighting. My dad wanted me to study business and help him run his company. But my mom wanted me to be an engineer.

女: Poor Brian, you must feel bad.

男: I was sad. What should I do?

女: You should talk with them tonight.

Question: What happened to Brian?

12. 男: What are you doing, Sarah? You look busy.

女: Could you get the flashlight for me?

男: Sure. Here you are. Are you going camping?

女: No, I'm preparing a small Go-Bag.

男: What's that?

女: It's a bag. We usually put some important things in it, like water, cookies, money, and a flashlight. When an earthquake happens, only seconds can mean the difference between life and death. If we have a Go-Bag ready, we can leave home as soon as possible. We may survive by ourselves for a few days with the things in a Go-Bag before the rescue comes.

男: That's a wise thing to prepare a Go-Bag!

女: Yeah. Do it right now!

Question: What did Sarah tell the man about a Go-Bag?

13. 女: Mother's Day is coming soon. Do you have any plans?

男: Mom is busy and tired. Let's make a big dinner for her.

女: But we cook terribly. Maybe eating at a restaurant will be better.

男: But I'm afraid it may cost us an arm and a leg.

女: Umm, I have another idea! We can show our love without spending money. Why don't we share the housework?

男: That would be great! She will have more free time to relax and be a happy mom.

Question: What can we know about the boy and the girl?

14. 男: Look at the latest news. Dogs in the rescue team helped save hundreds of lives this year.

女: Wow. How did they make it?

男: They went through rubble, glass, and lots of small spaces and followed the smell to look for survivors. It was a difficult job, but dogs helped a lot.

女: Sounds amazing. They are smart and brave.

男: Yes, they are. With rescue dogs, the rescue work can go faster and better.

女: Dogs are more important than I think. They save us when we are in danger.

男: You can say that again.

Question: What can we know from that talk?

15. Take a closer look at what you eat every day. You might be eating bugs! More and more countries are trying to make insects a part of their dishes because there may not be enough food in the future. Eating insects can be a way to feed the growing number of people. However, it's hard to take a bite of insects. Cooks are trying to make insect dishes look yummy. Maybe someday you would like to try them and then fall in love with them.

Question: Why may insects become food in the future?
